

CONSOLIDATION OF MAJOR RAILROADS IN UNITED STATES UNDER 19 SYSTEMS PLANNED

AUTO GOES THRU BRIDGE IN TOLEDO; TWO KILLED

TOLEDO, O., September 28.—German Nagel, 23, purchasing agent, and Francis Tillman, 21, paymaster of the Maumee Automobile Castings Company, were drowned, and Joseph L. Tillman, Jr., mechanical engineer, and son of the vice president of the company, were seriously injured shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, when an automobile in which three men were riding to work, skidded while attempting to pass another machine and crashing through a guard rail on the Passett street bridge plunged into the Maumee river 35 feet below. The automobile turned over during the fall and Nagel and Francis Tillman were pinned beneath it and drowned. Joseph Tillman, Jr., who was driving, was thrown clear of the car and landed on the bank of the river. He was badly cut by flying glass and suffered internal injuries.

DEFENSE READY IN ARBUCKLE MURDER CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 28.—The defense in the preliminary hearing of Ioseph C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rapp, announced that it was prepared to begin its effort to clear the motion picture comedian, when Judge Judge Sylvian J. Lazarus' court resumed late today.

The prosecution completed its presentation of evidence yesterday, with the jury retiring to deliberate. When the defense called Mrs. Hamblin M. Delmont, complaining witness, she moved taking the defense by surprise.

When Assistant District Attorney Isadore Golden told the court that Mrs. Delmont would not be summoned by the prosecution, Frank T. Dominick, Arbuckle's chief counsel, was on his feet instantly and demanded that she be produced.

"In the interests of truth and justice we demand it," he told the court.

"We demand that Mrs. Delmont be put on the stand that we may cross examine her. She is the person who issued the warrant. She is the chief witness. I never heard of a case in which the complainant was not produced."

Judge Lazarus told the prosecution it was not necessary to have Mrs. Delmont testify, but warned that they were risking the chance of having the charge dismissed. Later he denied a motion of the defense to quash the charge against the screen comedian and then court adjourned, until late this afternoon. Should Judge Lazarus decide that the comedian be freed of the murder charge, he will face a charge of manslaughter brought by the San Francisco county grand jury in connection with Miss Rapp's death.

There is also a possibility that Arbuckle will be prosecuted for alleged violation of the prohibition law. E. J. Connelley, California federal prohibition director, is conducting an investigation and on its completion, according to Robert H. McCord, assistant to the U. S. attorney general, the liquor angle will be brought before a federal grand jury.

Spain Calls Out Last Class To Put Down Moors

The Moorish rebels are causing Spain more military trouble than that country has had since the war with the United States. Here rebel scouts are watching the maneuvers of the Spanish from a mountain outpost. The last class of the Spanish army has been called out. Rich and poor are going, but they are serving with little enthusiasm.

Chief of Moors

El Mohamad and El Krim once was a friend of Spain. Now he is leading the Moors' insurrection.

Spanish Artillery In Action

This Spanish mountain battery is in action against the Moorish rebels. The Moors have either captured or put out of commission 24,000 Spanish troops and 100 pieces of artillery.

HOWAT TO DEFEY MINERS' ORDER TO END STRIKES

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 28.—Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas miners, was directed today by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America to order strikers at the Dean and Reliance mines to return to work. The convention decision became a certainty before the polling of the delegates was complete.

Unofficial figures gave a majority against Howat when the Alabama delegates threw most of their votes to the administration recommendation favoring the order for resumption of work. At that time about six hundred more votes remained to be cast, but the margin for the order, it was said, exceeded this figure. The delegates were unaware that a final decision had been reached and made no demonstration, the balloting continuing.

Howat, in a statement, later indicated he would not obey the convention decision. He said:

"The action taken by the convention is not going to alter our position in the least. We are standing as we have from the beginning and the only way we will advise the men to return to work is under the same customs and conditions that prevailed before the mines closed."

High School Strike Broken

AUGUSTA, MICH., September 28.—A "strike" of local high school boys was broken here today by parents of the youths. Forty boys "walked out" yesterday because one of their companions had received corporal punishment from the high school principal.

"Go back to school or you will get at home what that other boy received at school," was the edict handed down in 40 homes this morning. School authorities reported virtually every seat in the high school filled today.

NEW YORK ANNUAL HEGIRA ON; VAN OPERATORS ARE SWAMPED BY MANY MOVERS

NEW YORK, September 28.—Moving van operators reported themselves swamped today by applications from householders who wish to take part in New York's annual hegira, which is supposed to end, with everybody settled for the winter, on October 1.

Indications were, however, that everybody will not be settled by the first. One large real estate operator said hundreds of wily flat hunters had taken temporary quarters in the suburbs to wait for a tumble in rentals, which, he predicted, would begin immediately after October 1.

"To Let" signs are more numerous than they have been in years, he pointed out, and last Sunday's newspapers carried a record number of advertisements of apartments for rent. He declared he and other operators would cut 20 percent from their present rates, rather than have their apartments vacant throughout the winter.

There were no signs of a pre-October tumble, however. The mayor's committee on rent profiteering reported it was being deluged with complaints from tenants whose landlords have demanded increases. These were being advised to refuse to pay the increases, sit tight, and let the courts determine whether the demands were justified.

Three thousand residents of Washington Heights, Manhattan, decided at a mass meeting last night that they would refuse to pay increased rent rates demanded by their landlords and would take the cases to court.

Japs Name Envoys To Arms Meet

TOKIO, September 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The Japanese delegates to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and problems of the Pacific will be Prince Iyasato Tokugawa, president of the house of peers; Vice Admiral Tomoharu Kato, minister of the navy, and Baron Kijuro Shidehara, ambassador to the United States. It was officially announced this afternoon.

The secretaries to the chief delegates will be as follows: Masanao Hanihara, vice foreign minister; Tameo Matsura, chief of the American and European section of the foreign office; Dr. Kiroku Hayashi and Taro Takao, councillors of the foreign office.

The delegation includes eighteen others representing the foreign office, three representing the ministry of finance, twelve the ministry of the navy, and seven the army.

Paper Mill Employee Electrocuted

LANCASTER, O., September 28.—Walling Miller, 70, of Baltimore, a paper mill employee, was instantly killed this morning when he came in contact with an iron pipe charged with electricity. Homer Schaffer, who attempted to release Miller, was severely shocked. Miller leaves a widow and several children.

Hundreds Die In Jap Typhoon

TOKIO, September 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Several hundred persons have been killed by a typhoon in Central Japan, centering upon Nagoya, on the Island of Honshu, where a tidal wave destroyed crops and houses. Several steamers were sunk and many fishermen are missing.

Cruised In Bay In Open Row Boat For Sixty-Three Days

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 28.—Sighted by Chesapeake Bay fishermen five miles off Norfolk, Va., in an open row boat in which they had been cruising the waters of the bay and the Potomac river for 63 days, William A. Spencer, ex-soldier, and his ten-year-old daughter, Cora Elanor, were later located by a police launch and brought to that port Saturday after a nation-wide search of weeks, following their mysterious disappearance from this city. Finding of the father and daughter was made known at police headquarters here today after notification from the Norfolk authorities.

A wife, who, waiting for four other children for their return, had grown frantic in her fruitless efforts to locate husband and daughter, had joined Spencer at Norfolk and they are returning today to their home in Baltimore. Spencer and his daughter dropped out of sight completely when he came to Washington late in July to take her home after a visit here. His story of their mysterious two months' cruise in the row boat along the river and bay, as gathered by police here, revealed that they usually traveled by night and suffered from scant food and inadequate clothing. Spencer was decorated for distinguished service during the war.

Neither Spencer nor his wife, according to Washington police, have given any reason for his strange actions.

What's The Matter With Us, Anyway?

Otto H. Kahn, of Kahn, Loeb & Co., New York Bankers, Gives the Times His Opinion

BY OTTO H. KAHN

Of Kahn, Loeb & Co., New York City, it is that after many months of war liquidation and readjustment, we are still in the throes of poor trade, tight money, restricted credit, diminished enterprise and employment and a general discomfiture.

There are a number of reasons.

A war of unprecedented scope and costliness, accompanied by corresponding inflation of currency and production.

A peace equally unprecedented in its effects and in the deplorable discrepancy between professed aims and actual performance.

Governmental incapacity, neglect and blundering.

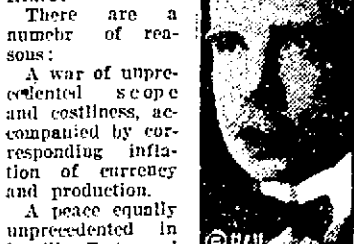

Excessive expansion, overtrading and lack of foresight on the part of a considerable portion of the business community.

Exorbitant boosting of the cost of labor and stubborn insistence, in some instances, upon conditions not normally tolerable.

Governmental and private extravagance.

Tax System of 1917

But there is one element which, more than any other single cause has stood and still stands in the way of our economic recovery. That is the imprudent, disconcerting and mischievous (Continued on Page Six)

Russia May Keep Treaty

LONDON, September 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Polish officials here stated this afternoon that after a full exchange of notes between the Polish and Russian soviet governments, the negotiations concerning the execution of the peace treaty signed in Russia had taken a favorable turn toward conciliation.

Jungle Artist

MISS ISABELLE COOPER

NEW YORK, September 28.—"Really, I'm more afraid of New York taxicabs than I am of jungle snakes," says Miss Isabelle Cooper, who holds a position unique in all the world. She is official field artist for the New York Zoological Society in its tropical research work.

Miss Cooper has recently returned from the society's station in British Guiana, South America, where for 11 months she has lived in the jungle with the 12 other members of the expedition under William Beebe.

"I started out to be an ordinary painter," said Miss Cooper, "but that takes peculiar genius. I used to do designing for costumes and silks, but I now feel that I have found my life work."

Lived In Tents

"Our station is in the very densest jungle. We lived in tents, but our laboratory had a high wooden fence, to protect us from storms."

"I met but three poisonous reptiles while walking in the bush or out shooting. Naturally, I handle snakes all the time in my work. One soon overcomes any feeling about them."

"The life is truly wonderful, it's so comfortable. We have no servant problems, or house hunting. There are plenty of Indians or blacks to help us. And such splendid food—venison, wild hog, fowl and monkey!"

Robbery is supposed to have been the cause of the foul murder. Dr. Walker had over $300 on his person, but in their haste to get away, overlooked the money. Police are making an effort to trace the murderers with bloodhounds.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN OF ALLIANCE IS SLAIN

ALLIANCE, O., September 28.—Dr. O. C. Walker, one of the best known physicians in Alliance, was shot to death at one o'clock this morning at his home on Parkway boulevard. He was called from his bed to the telephone and asked to hurry to a 618 Grant street residence where a woman was said to be very ill. He was complying with the urgent call, and went to his garage when he was assaulted by two men, who opened fire on him, shooting him four times, each of which shots would have proven fatal. Mrs. Walker, from the window of her bed room, saw the two men, and screaming, they hastily left their victim.

DELIVERED LIQUOR IN PATROL WAGON, CHARGE EXTRA FOR POLICE ESCORT

CHICAGO, September 28.—Questioning of witnesses and policemen from the Grand Crossing police district was the next step today, according to Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney, in the investigation of allegations by Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris that 2,500 of Chicago's 5,000 policemen are involved in liquor law violations. The inquiry is in connection with reports that police were delivering liquor from this station in a patrol wagon and charging $5 extra per case for a uniformed escort, Mr. Clyne said.

Mr. Clyne expressed the opinion that there were spies stationed at the federal building watching the persons being questioned by federal authorities and said reports that an attempt was being made to intimidate witnesses was being investigated.

Authorities also were investigating a theory that all the policemen involved in liquor law violations here were members of one big liquor ring whose operations extend over the entire country. Government agents pointed out that forged liquor permits seized in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore and Omaha apparently have originated from the same source and bore the name of a prohibition officer in the same handwriting.

The proposed consolidated systems include:

No. 1—New York Central, including the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis; Monongahela; Boston and Maine; Bangor and Aroostook and others.

No. 2—Pennsylvania, including Toledo, Peoria Western; Long Island Monongahela as an alternative to the inclusion of that road in the New York Central System, and others.

No. 3—Baltimore and Ohio; Reading; New York, New Haven and Hartford; Lehigh and Hudson, and others.

No. 4—Chicago and Erie; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; Des Moines and Lake Erie; Wabash Lines east of Missouri, and others.

No. 5—Lehigh Valley; New York, Chicago and St. Louis (Nekel Plate); Pittsburgh and West Virginia, and others.

No. 6—Chesapeake and Ohio; Hocking Valley and Virginian.

No. 7—Norfolk and Western; Toledo (Continued on Page Six)

Carpenters' Union Officials Indicted; Violated Boycott Law, Charged

CHICAGO, September 28.—Six officials of union organizations were indicted today by a special grand jury. Harry Jensen, head of the carpenters' district council, and Thomas F. Church, his business agent, were named in several conspiracy counts. They are charged with conspiring to boycott and destroy the business of Smith & Wickstrom, contractors. Bonds were set at $10,000.

Crime Wave Among Bees

ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 28.—A crime wave has broken out among bees.

This became known today when H. L. Case, of Canadigua, an apiarist, reported that a horde of bees had flown into his warehouse through a broken window, drained every drop of honey out of his combs and escaped with two tons of the sweet liquid.

The raiding party, however, suffered heavy casualties, for Case picked up four bushels of dead bees which apparently had fallen exhausted.

Enameled Ware; Brick Business Shows Gain

CANTON, O., September 28.—A decided improvement in enameled ware and brick manufacturing lines was reported today by plants in the Canton district. The Canton and Republic Stamping and Enameling Companies, which produce a considerable portion of the enameled ware output in this country, said their plants are busier now than at any time since the war. The Canton Enameling Company reported a decided gain in business for September over July and August.

TO HITCH WEAK ONES TO STRONGER RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 28.—The interstate commerce commission today announced tentative plans for consolidating all of the major roads of the United States into 19 great systems, and gave notice that hearings would be called upon it in the near future.

The step was taken under provisions of the transportation act, which allows the consolidation, if voluntary with the railroads concerned. The proposals now put forward by the commission follow in the main a plan prepared under its direction by Professor William Z. Ripley, of Harvard.

The commission's proposed 19 systems, as outlined today, provide for retention of the competitive arrangement of transportation lines, giving most sections of the country access to two or more of the great routes devised. The principle followed in making up the consolidations was that of hitching weaker and less profitable roads to more prosperous competitors or connections, at the same time maintaining the identity very largely of existing great railroads. In some cases branch lines of existing roads are suggested for divorce from present owners and attachment to other systems, with rearrangement of terminal facilities.

It is expected that the plan, with alternative arrangements which the commission has suggested, particularly with reference to New England, will be under consideration and argument for a prolonged period, since permission of the commission and consent of the railroads is required to every detail before it can be put into operation. The voluntary consolidation plan was adopted by congress as a possible means of facilitating the operation of the American transportation system under rate regulation, on the theory that rates allowed by the interstate commission were being found sufficient to give adequate earnings to strong lines while weaker roads in the same territory could not show sufficient earnings to continue operations.

In the main, the plan proposed by the commission is that drafted under its direction by Professor William Z. Ripley, Harvard University, but some variations were made. The commission said that while all of the larger Class 1 railroads had been included in the make-up of its schedule, a number of Class 2 and Class 3 lines had also been covered.

The proposed consolidated systems include:

No. 1—New York Central, including the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis; Monongahela; Boston and Maine; Bangor and Aroostook and others.

No. 2—Pennsylvania, including Toledo, Peoria Western; Long Island Monongahela as an alternative to the inclusion of that road in the New York Central System, and others.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl of 27 and have never been married. A few weeks ago I met a fellow in Cincinnati who is 49 years old who wants to marry me. We were visiting at the same house for a few days and we took a drive one afternoon and he popped the question. I told him I did not love him well enough to marry him and he said that did not make any difference, that if I married him he would be so good to me that I would soon learn to love him. He offered to put $1000 in the bank for me and buy me an automobile before I married him. Then if I did not learn to love him I could take the money and go where I pleased. He is right well fixed. I am not taking his word for it. I found out from other people what he was worth. Dolly, do you think he loves me or just wants a housekeeper. There is 22 years difference in our ages. Do you think that would have anything to do with us being happy?

How to Make Child-birth Easier!

DO YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this:

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, these heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity, they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

MOTHER'S FRIEND
Used by Expectant Mothers for Three Generations

The members of the Matron and Maid club enjoyed a delightful social meeting Monday afternoon, at the beautiful home of Mrs. Charles Streuber, 605 Front street. Great bouquets of fall flowers were used in the attractive decorations throughout the room, and 500 was the gauge of the afternoon. Mrs. Otto Emmert scored the highest and was presented with the first favor, and Mrs. E. W. Whelan was given the guest favor. At the close of the games delicious hot lunch was served at the card tables. Mrs. Streuber was assisted in serving the guests by her daughter and sister, Miss Bernadine Streuber and Miss Mary Angeline.

The club members present included Mesdames Adnan Buch, William J. Burke, J. J. Brashart, Nettie Farrall, Adolph Gleuckner, Adolph Goodman, John C. McMahon, Otto Emmert, John W. Snyder, W. L. Quetzel, the Misses Margaret McMahon and Anna Goodman.

Out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Allen McDonald of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. E. W. Whelan of Ironton, guests of Mrs. Streuber, and Mrs. Frank Baumelster of Columbus, guest of Mrs. Otto Emmert of Harvard street. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Emmert.

Mrs. A. P. Minshall, of Church street is suffering with a badly burned right arm. While putting up fruit, a can of paraffin which she was using caught fire and in trying to extinguish the fire the burning paraffin was spilled on her arm, burning it severely from the elbow to the hand. —Chillicothe Gazette.

Mrs. W. H. McCurdy's Sunday school class of Trinity church will meet at the church Thursday afternoon. The regular business meeting will be held at 2:30; but as many of the ladies as can do so are requested to come at 1:00 or 1:30, as there is some quilting to be finished up. The hostesses on this occasion will be Mesdames Belle Smith, George Staten, Ray Seales, J. R. Massa, John Tener, P. M. Moore, L. Patton, W. Zahurs.

The members of the Whatsoever Guild of All Saints church will entertain the teachers and scholars of All Saints' church school at a Christmas party in the Parish house tomorrow evening. The Pythian Sisters will give their first dance of the season Thursday evening, October 6th, in the K. of T. Hall, Fourth and Washington streets. The Novelties Sextette will furnish the music.

A Wonderful Hair Saver and Real Beautifier
Parisian Sage Quickly Stops Falling Hair, Makes It Grow and Beautifies It—No Nothing to Pay

If your hair is falling out, or is faded, dry, streaked and straggly and new hair does not grow, the roots must be immediately vitalized and properly nourished. To do this quickly, safely and most effectively, get a bottle of Parisian Sage from your druggist and follow the simple directions for home use.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed to quickly banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair and stimulate new hair to grow, or money refunded. It is in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft, lustrous and easy to manage, and appears much heavier than it really is.

A massage with Parisian Sage is a real delight—easy to use, not sticky, a deliciously perfumed antiseptic liquid that does not change the hair's natural color.

If you want a clean, healthy scalp, and plenty of thick, good-looking hair, start using Parisian Sage tonight. Worcester Bros. will supply you and guarantee money refunded if not satisfied. —Advertisement.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN
A prominent physician says that by far the largest number of women's ailments are not surgical ones, that is they are not caused by serious displacements, or growths. Symptoms similar in character are often brought about by much simpler conditions. We therefore urge every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, bearing down pains, side ache, irregularities, nervous despondency, or weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It acts as a natural restorative and often prevents more serious troubles.—Advertisement.

JANE STARTS FOR CHICAGO
The next day Cherry, as per promise, broached the subject of Jane's visit to her people to Mrs. Randall. That lady sniffed the idea down hard at first, until Cherry pointed out to her, in strict confidence, that it would be the very thing to do if Mr. Sills was to be gotten rid of. Then she changed her mind and consented. Jane, who was within a day or so of leaving, was told that Mrs. Randall would be there to meet her train and introduce her to Cherry's family. Great was the excitement when this step was decided upon. Jane went for joy and hugged her sister-in-law over and over again in gratitude as she sat trying to pack her trunk and rejoice over the prospect of her complete freedom.

Together the two girls packed and talked over the visit. Every smallest detail was arranged by Cherry and Jane was like a person reborn for the rest of her time at home. She went about the house singing like a lark, and Aunt Phoebe confided to Cherry that "she jes' didn't know Miss Janey no mo'."

A telegram was dispatched to Ned that everything settled before the train bearing the happiest girl in all Wellsburg finally pulled out of the station two days later.

The family saw her off, plus some half a hundred of her best friends. Jane laughingly declared that she had never dreamed she was so popular until she decided to leave town.

Billy Sills brought her a huge box of candy and a bunch of autumn flowers as a parting tribute to her charms. Smiling joyfully over these tokens of his burning love for her, the happy girl was whisked away to the world she had dreamed of for so long.

The very next afternoon Mr. Sills left town. He explained that his office called him back to Chicago when he came to say farewell to Mrs. Randall.

Horseshoe Team To Go To Huntington; Brady President of Horseshoe Club

Two important things were handled at the meeting of the new executive committee of the Portsmouth Horseshoe Club last night. It was decided to accept the challenge of the Huntington shoe throwers and to send a pick-off team, from the Portsmouth pitchers to meet them, and Edw. Brady, of the Hilltop A. C. team was elected president of the Portsmouth club.

The challenge came from Huntington some time ago. It was unanimously voted to accept it, and to have a contest among the best pitchers of Portsmouth to decide who was to compose the team. Twelve of the best pitchers were selected to meet each other on next Friday and Monday evenings. Each of the twelve candidates will pitch each of the other candidates one game making each candidate pitch eleven games during the evening. The same will be done on Monday evening and the four pitchers making the highest scores for the two evenings will compose the team that goes to Huntington, with the player that stands fifth being the alternate. The twelve pitchers selected to try out for the team are Ben Cross, N. Kitchen, W. Brierley, Joe Aldridge, W. Swickert, Doll Hamey, Revare, Cook, Higgins, Millison and Prediger, with Strader, Dempsey and Dodge to take the place of any one who fails to show up.

The Executive Committee also elected officers for the coming year. Edw. Brady, President; J. A. Booker, vice president; Edw. S. Gilliam, secretary and L. K. McClure, treasurer.

Held For Pike County Officers

A man giving his name as J. M. Kellison, 30 years old, was apprehended by Sheriff E. E. Rice and Deputy B. P. Bennett Tuesday night and locked up at the county jail where he is held for the Waverly authorities where he is said to be wanted to meet a charge of larceny.

According to information received by local officers, Kellison stayed over Monday night with a man named Spencer at Ganderhook, back of Waverly, and the next morning Kellison was missing and so was Spencer's roll containing $110.

It is claimed that Kellison arose before Spencer and extracted the money from the trousers of his victim while the latter slept and then disappeared. Kellison was taken from N. & W. passenger train No. 22 on its arrival here last night, the officers interrupting his flight to a point in West Virginia, which his ticket called for. An officer is expected to come late today to take the prisoner back to Pike county.

Burned Boy May Recover

Freddie Horner, 16 year-old son of Arch Horner, of Howard Furnace, near Lya, who was dangerously burned Sunday in an explosion of blasting powder which set his clothes on fire, was just about the same today. Dr. A. G. Stevens, of South Webster, is giving the boy considerable of his attention, the case being a very serious one. Today the attending physician reported that he had hopes of saving the boy's eyesight, which was thought to have been destroyed by the flames that leaped up over his head while his clothes were afire. The burns all over his body are deep and very painful. The skin peeled off in many places and the deep burns on the face may leave a scar. The left leg and left arm were the most painfully burned. Although suffering great pain, the boy was not delirious today as he had been for some hours.

Arthur Horner, a younger brother who was also in the accident, escaped with burns on the feet.

The blasting powder ignited from a carbide lamp held by one of the boys.

DAY AND NIGHT WORK PLANNED BY SENATE TO SPEED UP LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 28.—With a view to expediting action on the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary and on tax revision legislation, Republican leaders planned today to put through a program calling not only for night sessions of the senate, but for the beginning of the day sessions an hour earlier than usual. The tax bill would be considered during the day and the treaties at night.

There is a desire to dispose of the treaties before the beginning of the conference on the elimination of armaments and since the three peats must be acted upon Saturday, leaders plan to lose no time in getting their consideration fully under way.

Chairman Penrose, of the finance committee, is determined to push the tax bill as fast as possible. He still is hopeful that it can be put through with two weeks' consideration, but opposition to some features apparently has taken on a wider range than at first was anticipated.

Aside from the tax measure and the treaties, many other measures of importance are awaiting action before the beginning of the regular session early in December. There is an agreement to vote on the Panama Canal tolls repeal bill on October 10, and measure probably will be resumed late next month or early in November.

Dakota, in charge of the beer bill, has given notice that after the tax bill and the treaties are out of the way he will insist that the conference report on the beer measure be disposed of without interruption. Other matters pending include the railroad refunding bill and the measure authorizing the secretary of the treasury to fund into long time securities the debts owed the United States by its former associates in the world war.

After the tax bill is passed, Senator Penrose plans to have his committee resume consideration of the permanent tariff bill. Since it is now practically certain that this measure will not be brought out until the regular session, there is discussion of continuing the emergency tariff law until the permanent act is passed. The emergency law expires on November 27, and representatives of agricultural interests already have asked that the finance committee report a bill continuing its life.

Senator Penrose hopes to have within two or three weeks some of the data now being assembled by experts on the plan to fix the American valuation of imports as the basis for determining the duties, but all of it probably will not be in hand for six weeks or two months. Hearings on the tariff tolls repeal bill on October 10, and measure probably will be resumed late next month or early in November.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH NEWS

Beginning with next Sunday, Oct. 2nd until further notice the hours of services will be as follows:

First mass at 7 o'clock a. m., central time.

Second mass, high mass at nine o'clock.

Sunday School at 2 o'clock p. m.

Vespers at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Rt. Rev. James J. Hartley D. D., bishop of Columbus, will visit Holy Redeemer parish to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to a large class, Sunday, October 9th at 2:30 p. m.

Next Sunday after Vespers, there will be a meeting in the church of all candidates for confirmation and their respective sponsors. It is very important that every one concerned be present, when they will receive the instructions and make preparations for the ceremony of confirmation. All adult members, including all converts to the faith are kindly requested without further delay to send name and address to the pastor.

The Holy Father in his letter of recent appeal to all the clergy, religious and laity throughout the world, respectively reminds them of the pious duty to recite daily the Holy Rosary Prayer, in honor of the Mother of God, for the public needs of the church, from the first of October until the 2nd of November inclusively.

The work of grading and rolling the stretch of road from the end of the paving at Franklin Furnace to the Lawrence county line is progressing rapidly and it probably will be completed this week. It is being put in splendid shape and when completed the Portsmouth-Ironton road will be in better shape than it has been for years. It will be a veritable speedway.

Tanks May Play Here October 16

From present indications the Iron-Tank will be seen in action against the Smoke House team in Millbrook on Sunday October 16. A contract to this effect will be signed this week by the respective managers. This game will no doubt pack Millbrook as it will be a football game with all the frills that battery rivalry will provide.

Escape With Fake Passes

COLEMBUS, O., September 28.—Using fake passes made out by themselves, William Jones, life prisoner from Columbus, and Archie Manley, serving five to thirty years for burglary and larceny from Allen county, escaped from the state brick plant at Junction City yesterday. It was announced today by Warden Thomas, of the penitentiary.

Guard William H. Slagle, who honored the fake passes, was summarily dismissed by the warden this morning, upon receipt of detailed information of the escape from Deputy Warden J. E. Welch.

Jones, received in 1910, escaped from the prison in 1917, but was returned a year later. He killed his wife, Manley, with a record of two previous terms, was received the last time in November, 1919.

FIRE DAMAGES STOCKYARDS

ATLANTA, GA., September 28.—Fire that swept through a portion of the stockyards district on Marietta street, here early today caused damage to a half dozen buildings and resulted in the loss of 75 to 100 mules. The total loss was placed around $100,000.

For a long time, it was thought the flames threatened the whole stockyards district and hundreds of horses and mules were driven from the big barns and over-ran the streets for half a dozen blocks around.

Community School Opens

The preliminary meeting of the Community School for Religious Education was held last evening at the United Brethren church. Talks were made by Dean Appel, Secretary Barnhart and the four faculty members explained their courses for the Fall Semester.

Four courses will be given: One in Old Testament Prophecy by Rev. Dr. C. E. Chandler; Principles and Methods of Religious Teaching, by Principal Eccles; Stories and Story Telling by Mrs. Marie Ware Marting, and the Young People's Department, by Miss Estella Welly. Those registering may take as many as two courses, or only one, if they prefer.

The various Bible Schools expect to pay the registration fees for those from their school, just as last year. These courses are a continuation of last Spring's work, and all count as part of the three years' work necessary to a diploma.

A number of those who took the work last year, but did not take the examination at the end, have gotten the impression that this omission prevents them from registering this fall.

This is not the case at all. Those take the examination who desire credit toward a diploma; the others need not take it, unless they desire. Anyone may enter at this time with or without examination and in addition a number who were not registered last year are expecting to do so at this time.

President Gates of the County S. S. Union has called a meeting of the Sunday School superintendents for Friday night at 7 o'clock at the U. B. church in connection with a drive to get out as strong a registration for the fall's work as was enjoyed in the spring.

ALICE LAKE
OVER the WIRE

The drama of a girl who found happiness through hate

By ARTHUR SOMERS ROCHE

"Over the Wire" With Alice Lake, the Popular Metro Star is a Wonderful Picture—Be Sure and See It at the Eastland Theatre. Other Good Attractions Also.

Program

A—Herbert Kaufman's Weekly.

B—Sweet Revenge. A Christie comedy.

C—Screen Snapshots. News from the studios.

D—Overture, "A Midnight Dream" by Schlegel, played by the Eastland orchestra. Wm. Spitzer director.

E—Metro presents Alice Lake in "Over the Wire."

An eye for an eye; a tooth for a tooth—the old Mosaic code of ethics was called into play yesterday in the Wesley Ruggles Production "Over the Wire," in which Alice Lake stars, and thrilled the full-house audience which witnessed the first performance of this Metro picture at the Eastland theatre.

But more—as they followed with bated breath the dramatic movements of the picture the audience was treated to as unexpected a climax as was ever unfolded. For the action moved relentlessly toward the gaining of revenge by a young woman whose brother's death had been brought about by a financier; vengeance was almost consummated when suddenly, a flower of love sprang up from the bog of hate. It was a masterly situation, but then the creator of it was Arthur Somers Roche, the fictionist whose book covers ranks him among the best short story writers of the country.

As Kathleen Dexter, Alice Lake, gave a performance of surpassing skill and beauty. Her acting has finish and spontaneity; it sparkles brilliantly like diamond facets, leaving nothing to be desired. Miss Lake's supporting cast includes Albert Roscoe, George Stewart and Alan Hale.

"THE LOST CITY"

Ben is James Oliver Curwood Sounding the Call of the North to You Again—Another of His Big Red-Blooded Outdoor Stories Comes To the Eastland Theatre Monday in "God's Country and the Law." Make Your Arrangements Now To See It.

For the scores of local photoplay fans who have been hungering for stories of those red-blooded outdoor stories by James Oliver Curwood, the management of the Eastland Theatre announces that on Monday and for three days thereafter, "God's Country and the Law," while it is usual of the Curwood North color and drama, has a theme drawn from most of his stories in "God's Country and the Law." It is a thrilling dramatic story of a man humbled by a guilty conscience and driven to destruction by the Great Fear. However, it has one Curwood angle so much delighted in by thousands of Curwood fans in the past. That is, the splendid and stuff and action.

"God's Country and the Law" has plenty of this animal color and some of the scenes in which these little bear cubs are used have turned out to be feature spots in the picture.

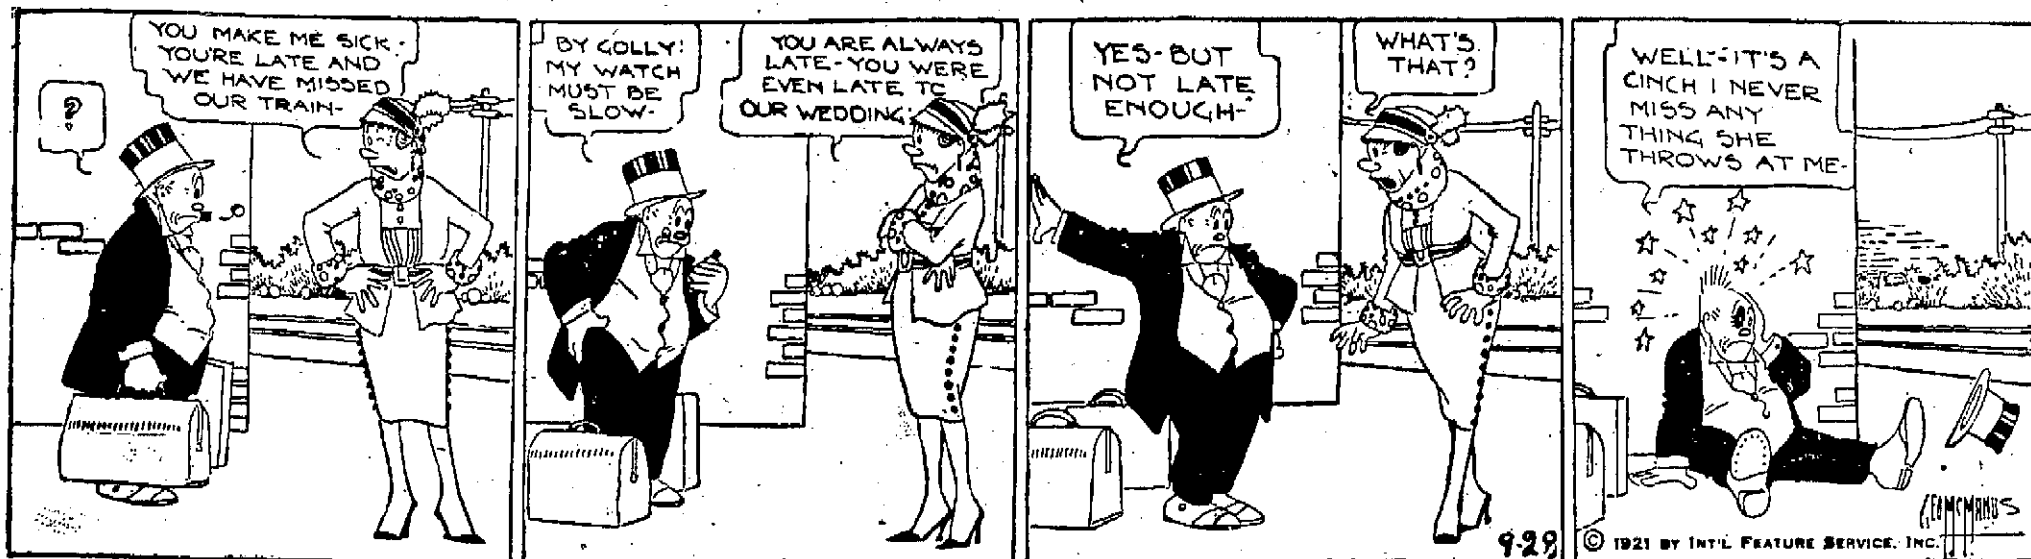

Glady's Leslie is playing the star role of Marie supported by a specially selected cast.

While parade preparations were being on, the delegates to the Army Encampment met in a business session. Business meetings were also planned by the Women's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary and the Daughters of Veterans.

Why The First Aid To Good Health Is Pure Blood

Waste Products in the Blood Cause Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders, and A Lowered Vitality

Many People Do Not Understand Nature's Warning

When you have that feeling of fatigue, when you lack the energy you need for the day's duties and pleasures, when you are troubled with pimples, blackheads, bad boils, sores or some other skin eruptions; or when you have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints, don't wait until you collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease but start at once to get the waste products out of your blood. Nature has certain peculiar ways to warn us. Fortunately, indeed, is the person who knows her danger signals. Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and lowered vitality. The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition. S. S. S. may be had at any drug store. Write to Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 715 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., and let him help you regain your health and strength. Give him a full description of your case. He is helping people every day (without charge). Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. ## Auto Thief Makes Unsuccessful Attempt To Break Out Of Jail

Chas. Jones, the man captured by Officers Kendall and King Saturday morning with a car belonging to Dr. Carl Braunlin of Portsmouth and who was locked up in the city prison charged with his theft of the auto, attempted to break jail and but for the vigilance of Officer Norris he would probably have been successful. Jones succeeded in picking the lock on his cell door as well as the lock on the door leading out into the corridor. He then secured a piece of steel from the bank of an old park bench, used by the prisoners and with this implement he was busily engaged in trying to pry the lock off the last door leading from the corridor to the basement, from where escape would have been easy. Officer Norris, however, on coming in had heard the noise and removing his shoes to avoid a racket in descending the stairs, crept down to the basement, where he apprehended Jones in the act of prying off the last lock. Covering Jones with his gun, Norris marched him back and secured him in another cell.—Irononian.

Brunner Dismissed

Adolph Brunner appeared in Municipal court yesterday and denied guilt of unlawfully possessing five opossums during the closed season, and after hearing his story that he caught the animals in a trap to prevent them killing his chickens and ducks, Judge Sprague dismissed the complaint, which was filed by Game Protector Frank Vortices.

The two opossums which were found in a pen at Brunner's home in Brunner Hollow will be turned out on the state game preserve on the West Side.

Belt Is Held To Grand Jury

Thornton Belt, 49 years old, negro, arrested by the police Monday night on a charge of shooting at with intent to kill Ellis Greer, also colored, pleaded not guilty and waived examination when arraigned in Municipal court Tuesday and Judge Sprague held him to the grand jury under $200 bond. Belt, who was represented by Attorney H. A. Taylor, furnished the bond and was released from custody. The alleged shooting occurred at Thirteenth and Waller streets, when Belt is alleged to have terminated an argument by drawing a pistol and firing three shots at the fast disappearing form of Greer, who decided it was his time to move when he caught sight of the weapon. None of the shots took effect.

Called Meeting, Next Thursday

Buys Stolen Watch; Fined $25

When Frank Stillier was brought into Municipal court Tuesday to meet a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of a watch from his uncle, W. J. Bismarck, 1924 Nineteenth street, he admitted guilt, but by reason of his age Judge Sprague sent him to the juvenile court. The youth, who claims he will be 18 years old next December, told the court he took the watch and sold it to J. H. Glickman, proprietor of the Portsmouth Jewelry and Optical company, 721 Chillicothe street, for $4.00. This statement led to the filing of a charge against Glickman for unlawfully buying the watch from the boy. Although Glickman strenuously denied the charge and claimed that the lad left the time-piece at his place for repairs, where it was found by the officers, Judge Sprague made a finding of guilty and ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $25 and costs.

Takes Bike For Spin; Is Arrested

Bruce Shumblin, 16 years old, was the name given by a youth arrested by the police at an early hour Wednesday morning in the East End and locked up at the city jail for larceny in connection with the theft of a bicycle belonging to Phil Knost, grocer, Gallia and Lincoln street. According to the officers the youth admitted taking the bike but claimed he had no intention of stealing it but instead merely took a little spin to test it out, expecting to pay it in event it proved alright. He was sent to the juvenile court. The lad's home is in Kentucky.

Wagon And Street Car Collide

A wagon load of gravel drawn by a team of mules driven by Joseph George, who is hauling material to 601

Glenwood avenue, where a new house is under construction, was struck by an east bound street car on Damartin Hill about 6 o'clock last evening. One mule was knocked down and cut about the head when the animal's head was caught under the car. Two wheels on the wagon and the tongue were broken. The wagon was owned by the S. Monroe and Sons Company. George owned the team of mules. He escaped with slight bruises and a shaking up. The street car was in charge of Motorman George Schneider and Conductor George Monroe.

New Boston Hi Ready For P. H. S.

New Boston's high school football eleven is working out each afternoon this week and Coach Silvers says that his organization is ready to give the P. H. S. a warm fight Friday afternoon on the Sixteenth street lot. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock. Coach Silvers has been working this week strengthening the weak points uncovered last week in the game with Ironton. This week he lost one man when Gray, playing guard, quit school. Statten, a recruit, is to be put in Gray's place. Statten is now heavy but is fast and is expected to be able to fill the shoes of Gray.

The new sweaters and stockings ordered for the New Boston eleven several weeks ago have failed to arrive. Complete new uniforms were ordered but only the pants have been received to date. The boys are hoping the sweaters and stockings will arrive in time for Friday afternoon's contest.

Smoke House Team Is Rounding Into Form For Ashland Game Here Sunday

The Smoke House football eleven enjoyed another stiff workout last night and the team is being rounded into good shape for the game against Ashland in Millbrook next Sunday.

There will be several new faces in the lineup and the team will be one of the strongest that ever represented the River City on the gridiron. The boys realize that they are facing a strenuous season and expect to be in prime fettle for all games.

Some real scrimmage work was indulged in last night, flying tackles were made and the backfield men made substantial gains through the line.

The team is being well drilled and coached and it is going to be heard from.

Shocker Tames Clubbing Yankees

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Pitcher Udon Shocker of the St. Louis Browns, leaman of his word. He said he would stop the New York Yankees and he did. And today the league leaders' advantage over Cleveland in the American league was reduced to a game and a half.

The Missouri spitball twirler, who are were a Yankee uniform, is quite satisfied with his season's work against the club that traded him to the Browns in 1918. Out of nine contests he has pitched against the New Yorkers this year, he has won five of them.

In battling the Yankees yesterday, Shocker not only blanked them, 2 to 0, but he made the great Ruth hitless in three times at bat. In the ninth, Ruth went to bat with two runners on base, but Shocker exercised his strategy and passed him, making Menard a fly to centerfield for the third out. Shocker's twelfth inning of the season won the game in the first inning.

Both the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians are idle today, but tomorrow they begin their final four games, which will decide the issue in the American circuit. The Chicago White Sox are the Indians' opponents in the world's champions' four last contests, while New York plays three with the Athletics and one with the Red Sox. Pitcher Bush of the Red Sox, held the Athletics to four hits in the second game of a double header, which allowed Boston to break even. In the first game Leffelder, Leibold, of Boston, made 3 hits and scored two runs in four times at bat and in the second he was up twice, scored twice and made one hit.

Writer Defends McDermott Pitcher

A person who writes as Spectator at Sunday's ball game at McDermott between the village nine and Berrum's Stars, which was won by the local nine, claims that Berrum, who pitched for McDermott, was "unjustly slammed" when it was reported that the winners hit his offerings to all corners of the lot, while Rogers pitched a great game. The writer claims that Berrum, a new man in the box, held the "hard-hitting Stars" to four clean hits and struck out more men than Rogers who has had several years' experience. He says that Berrum's shortstop, third baseman and rightfielder gave the visitors the game in the second inning when six runs trickled in. Of McDermott's three lone hits Berrum made one, and Duncan two. Had Berrum been given the right kind of support the Stars would be singing the "Blues," according to the writer.

Matty To Get Handsome Sum

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The testimonial fund for Christy Mathewson, former pitching star of the New York Giants, who is waging a fight against tuberculosis at Saranac Lake, has reached $11,850, it was announced today by the committee in charge.

The fund will be swelled next Friday by the Giants' share of the receipts of a game with the Boston Braves and by the proceeds of an auction of baseballs autographed by President Harding, Babe Ruth and by "Big Six" himself.

Huntington Has Team In Field

Huntington is to have a Sunday football eleven. The team is now being organized by Alec Solof, one of the city's leading business men, Charleston, Collegians, Ashland backing the team, which will play in Kenova park. Games will be booked with the Ironton Tanks, Columbus Panhandles, Portsmouth Smoke House, Charleston, Collegians, Ashland Steel and Cattletsburg Giants.

All Star Game In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Baseball stars of the National and American leagues will meet here today in a game staged by the All Stars Service league to provide a fund with which to buy athletic equipment for poor children. The league is prepared to place an order for 5,000 dozen baseballs and several hundred bats and fielders' mitts.

The National league will be represented, among others, by Helme Groh, Eddie Roush and Eppa Rixey, of the Cincinnati Reds, Chief Yellow Horse, of Pittsburg, Miguel Gonzales and Ryan, of the New York Giants, and Tony Daley and Elmer Ponder, of the Cubs.

Among those representing the American league are Walter Johnson, Washington; Johnny Bassler, Harry Heilmann and George Dauss, Detroit; Joe Dugan, Ralph Perkins and Ed Rommel, Philadelphia; Dick Kerr and Harry Hooper, White Sox, and Steve Oxeall and Larry Gardner and other Cleveland players.

Billy Bruns, of the American league and William Rieger of the National league will umpire.

Wilce Sends Meyers To Fullback

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 28.—Dr. Wilce, coach of the Ohio State football team, set fans to talking when he placed captain Myers, end at fullback, Huffman, tackle at end and Petroff, guard at tackle. Myers made a good showing in the backfield position, havingous distance out of his kicks.

played there during his freshman year. He lacks weight for the position, but made good gains through the line. Wilce also cut the squad from 104 to 64. Strout is improving in his punting and is getting marvelous in the backfield position, havingous distance out of his kicks.

Stinchcomb Works Out at Oxford

OXFORD, O., Sept. 28.—Coach Little held the first scrimmage of the week and will continue such mixing it with signal practice in order to get the team in condition for the opening game with Dayton university Saturday.

George Desig has been shifted from tackle to end, and though a sophomore is showing form that will put him in the class with his brother, Elmer, who starred at that position here for three years.

"Pete" Stinchcomb, Ohio State American halfback, was in town and appeared on the varsity field in football togs where he worked out with the squad.

Dunn Confident
CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland baseball club, has not yet given up hope of winning the American league pennant. "I will not concede the Yankees the pennant yet," he said, "Don't blame the boys if they fail to bring the pennant back. They did the best they could. Anyone who saw the last game at New York will testify they went down fighting."

Hard Scrimmage

GRANVILLE, O., Sept. 28.—Hard scrimmage against the freshmen teams is the program for the week for Denison, in preparation for the opening game of the season with Butler college here Saturday. Coach Livingston again sent his men into the rearing line, with hope that they would turnish more confidence than they did last Saturday, but the result was the same, line bucks, forward passes and end runs all bringing large gains for the varsity. The men are getting hardened to their work and if no accidents occur, will be in the best of condition Saturday.

Play Saturday

The Jackson high school eleven that will play against the P. H. S. eleven later in the season will open their season Saturday with Gallipolis. Wellston plays Gallipolis Oct. 8.

THE OTHER END OF IT

HERE is a general outcry against profiteering, overcharging and some statutory effort has been made to restrain it. But there is no law, none that we ever heard of until just recently, that prohibits a man from selling his products below a fixed figure. The average person, since most all are buyers rather than consumers, will regard any such limitation as absurd and, to be sure, unconstitutional.

There are reasons why a producer should not be allowed to sell his output at any sacrifice he may choose, though until now none has ever been applied—a man or a company properly entrenched might sell 'way below cost so it might wreck all its competitors and have a clear and undisputed field to itself, where it might become an insatiable extortioner.

Here, however, where the law is written and applied for the first instance presents no such ulterior purpose for the future. Henry Ford bought a decrepid and disreputable railroad, running in part along the eastern outskirts of Scioto county. He performed more magic with it than every sorcerer did with waving wand. In six months from a remorseless money sinker he converted it into a handsomely paying enterprise, raising wages meantime. Thereupon concluding it was making too much money, or more probably, taking the sensible view it could be made to yield increased revenues thereby, he cut freight rates 20 per cent. Somebody objected to the cut, somebody also brought some sort of a legal proceeding and the matter got before the federal interstate commerce commission. That body decided that the rates can not be reduced, without its consent, and as that consent is not forthcoming and is not going to be, so the law is written for the first time that a man can not sell as cheaply as he may wish.

No; it is not so foolish a law as you think. There are other railways. They can not afford, as the commission sees the situation, to carry freight as cheaply as Uncle Henry offers to; neither can they afford to have that share of freight, which is naturally theirs, diverted by lower rates onto a competing road. The general welfare would not be enhanced by injuring many to benefit one.

A CLEAR PROPOSITION

SENATOR Curtis, of Kansas, and Congressman Fess, of Ohio, are authors of a joint bill for a constitutional amendment that will place women on exactly the same legal plane as men.

Constitutional amendments haven't often conduced to the public peace however much they may have contributed to the common welfare; but here is one that ought to be passed unanimously and in the shortest possible time.

It is not at all creditable to the manhood of the nation that in every state there are statutory discriminations in favor of men, in many instances grossly unfair to women. More especially is this the case in regard to property rights and of the relations between husbands and wives.

Of course, were the proposal of Messrs. Curtis and Fess to become imbedded into the federal constitution all state enactments to the contrary would become null and void.

BUT WE ARE ALL NOT ALIKE

Los Angeles doctor has made a bid for passing notoriety by writing a book entitled: "How To Live A Hundred Years and Grow Old Gracefully."

He is ninety years old and hale and his claim is he reached this estate by never eating meat, going to bed at 8:30 and rising at 6 in the morning, never using intoxicating liquors and never complaining. By avoiding all worry and keeping a harmonious mind, always looking for the new, having a strong will power and keeping calm.

By doing exactly as he has done everybody can attain a century and be a graceful and gracious addition to society.

That's excellent advice, in so far as manners and content is concerned, but it hasn't a great deal to do in reaching a long life. As a general proposition his rules might, if strictly adhered to, help to some betterment of health, but they can not be accepted as a universal and unvarying cause to prolong life.

No general and fixed regulations and actions can be laid down for that. Human beings are too differently constituted, their physical requirements and nature are too variedly constructed to be bettered by a given course to all.

It is written in nature's laws that what is food for one is poison for another. That law is unchanged and unchangeable.

General Pershing is getting a splendid ovation in France. It shows that the Frenchmen are not altogether forgetful of the phrensied welcome they gave him in 1918.

Here is winter just around the corner and no cheering word comes of the progress being made on the West Side road to Lucasville.

After all the administration of the law may not be as inefficient as is ordinarily asserted. Of 84 automobiles, stolen in Columbus, during the first quarter of the year, 68 have been recovered.

No wonder Washington is expectant. Ten thousand foreigners, dukes, lords and what not are coming to attend the disarmament conference, which Mr. Hughes says is not to be for dynamism at all.

"Keep A-Goin'"
"If you strike a thorn or rose,
Keep a-goin'!"
"If it hails, or if it snows,
Keep a-goin'!"
"Tain't no use to sit and whine
When the fish ain't on your line;
Bait your hook and keep a-tryin'—

Wise Jottings
Time's swiftest flight is caused by the sight of a promissory note.
Women never criticize the judgment of men who pay them compliments.
Don't marry an old flame with the expectation that she will get up and light the kitchen fire of a cold morning.

Fair Enough
"Your honor, do you realize what it means to send me to jail for speeding?"
"Why not, sir?"
"My time is worth money to me."
"Maybe so, but if you can show me a single pedestrian who doesn't think his life is more to him than your time is to you, I'll let you off with a nominal fine."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Accept and Except
He—My dear Miss Grabbeigh, I wish to propose.
She—Oh, dear Mr. Cushin, I will accept you.
He—But I did not mean to propose marriage.
She—That meant, of course, that I would except you from my list of eligibles.

Friendly Advice
Doris—Jack and I have been engaged for two years and I think it's time we were getting married.
Nell—If you really love him, why not let him be happy a while longer?

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will, during the wedding reception for your daughter, remain at her side, where the guests may speak to you, also. The father of the bride, however, may mingle with guests giving them friendly attention. You will never congratulate a bride. Wish her well and congratulate the bridegroom.

You will, as hostess for your daughter's wedding breakfast or dinner, enter the dining room last, with the bridegroom's father or nearest masculine relative present. Your husband will lead into the dining room, escorting the bridegroom's nearest feminine relative.

Decorating an Interior
Mrs. Newrich was having her house decorated.
"I've just finished the drawing room," said the foreman; "what shall we do next?"
"You can do the dining room on Thursday," said Mrs. Newrich.
"What shall we do in the interim?" she was asked.
"Oh, paper that, too."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Easier to Manage
Bunter—Neither my brother nor I was able to get to sleep last night; he had the toothache, and I, you know, am in love.
Hunter—And who fell asleep first in the end?
"Oh, my brother."—London Answers.

A. William T. Tilden, Jr., is six feet one inch tall, and weighs 165 pounds.

Q. How much wire is there in the cables of the Brooklyn Bridge?—J. G. A.

A. The four great cables of the Brooklyn Bridge are each composed of 19 separate strands, each strand 2,575 1/2 feet long and each composed of 278 wires. The total length of wire in the four cables unwrapped is 14,080 miles.

Q. Who introduced printing in America?—R. M. N.

A. The first book printed in the New World was probably a translation from Latin into Spanish of "The Spiritual Leader" in 1535. Juan de Zumarrilla, a Franciscan monk, first Bishop of Mexico, printed it. The first book printed in America that contained text to illustrate the text was "The Doctrina Christiana" printed in Mexico City by Juan Pablos in 1541.

Q. Are sponges plants or animals?—N. T. P.

A. Sponges are popularly regarded as a kind of sea plant, but in reality they are skeletons of a low type of animal. They are reproduced by means of eggs, and the developed larvae are partly clothed with small hairs which enable them to swim or drift around until they find suitable places for adhesion.

Q. Please settle an argument by giving the source of the quotation, "You can lead a horse to drink?"—H. K.

A. This quotation is traced to John Heywood (circa 1550) in whose "Proverbs" appears, "A man may well bring a horse to the water, but he cannot make him drink without he will."

Q. When was the pay of private soldiers raised from $12 a month?—E. R. C.

A. The War Department says that Congress passed an act May 11, 1908, changing the pay of American soldiers from $12 to $15 a month.

Q. Where did the Casaba melon originate?—P. D. H.

A. The name, variously spelled Kussaba, Casaba, Cassaba, is derived from the town Kassaba near Smyrna, Asia Minor, whence it was introduced. The seed was sent from Smyrna to California late in 1878.

Q. What city in the United States has the greatest amount of mineral content in its drinking water?—D. M. J.

A. The Bureau of Chemistry says that the drinking water of Oklahoma City contains the greatest amount of minerals. There it amounts to 12.1 grains to a quart. The mineral content of the drinking water of Atlanta, Georgia, is the least, and amounts to only 2 of a grain to the quart.

Q. Where is it that the telescope is to be erected that will bring Mars within such close range?—D. E. J.

A. The plan being discussed is the building of a telescope using a mine shaft at Chama, Chile, as the barrel. Professor Todd, an astronomer, and B. McAlister, a scientist, are said to be responsible for the idea.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTYER

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Manhattan's high flying sons and daughters, rollicking hounds, Broadway calls them, are momentarily chilled by the aftermath of the "party"—which in latter days has degenerated into private apartment drinking orgies. The plight of Patty Arbuckle produced the chill. New York hotels are now turning down requests for private rooms where liquor is brought in from the outside. Before the Arbuckle affair, the best hotels, if patrons were known, permitted rental of apartments for "parties" and winked at the serving of liquor.

The "party" was brought to New York from Hollywood by moving picture folk. The glamour of New York in the old days did its hard drinking in cafes where there were to be sure private rooms but the management always kept an eagle eye out for the first sign of scandal.

Several high toned bachelor apartment houses this week issued orders that all "indy guests" must leave the buildings by 11 o'clock or leave would be revoked.

The tragedy that has more than likely ruined Arbuckle's career was quite a shock to Broadway, where he was known as a spender. The glamour who fatten off westwinds along the White Way are shedding crocodile tears but are carefully refraining from sending messages of sympathy.

Last March I traveled on the same train with Arbuckle from New York to Los Angeles. I had never met him before. There were only about 20 men on board and of course the comedian was the center of attraction. He took a special fancy to my dog and would have the chef especially prepare pork chops for him.

He struck me as a bewildered boy. Success had come too quickly. He appears more youthful than the photographs show. His type in our town used to live in the unpalated houses along the railroad tracks, their mother's eternally hidden away in damp kitchens. His clothes were gaudy and he wolfed his food like a starving beast.

When the train stopped and we stretched our cramped limbs in the small towns of Kansas, Colorado and Arizona, crowds gaped at Arbuckle but he seemed quite unconscious of it. The most of his time was spent in organizing crap games among the colored waiters in the dining car.

Belasco has produced a play called "The Wandering Jew." The cast was not announced before the premier. A Broadway wit met Belasco and inquired: "Who's going to play the leading part, Morris Gest?"

"I suppose the mosquitoes are thick out where you live," a friend inquired of a New Jerseyite.

"Well," responded the Jerseyite thoughtfully, "some of them are long and thin."

There is a little theatre in Greenwich Village which is a saucy haven for the indigent and restless of the community—a kind of alley-Grand Guignol wherein short plays of a bold nature are performed without vexing the police. There the down-trodden playwrights, barred from uptown producers' offices, contemplate with astonishment their own verbal brilliance.

The latest play deals with a woman of the streets who happens by a big church on Easter morn. It is a guttery thing, reeking with unclean phrases. The minister finally is attracted by the noise and comes out to the steps and before him, in a gust of exultant thrills, she drinks acid. Greenwich Villagers shakes his head and cries: "That is life."

Three Weeks In The Air

Some details of an extraordinary trip on private business have been printed. They impress upon us the belief that the country in which flying machines were invented is far from abreast of the line. During the past three weeks an American gentleman has successfully visited on business errands—starting from London—Paris, Brussels, Amsterdam, Hamburg, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Christiania, Berlin, Warsaw, Prague, Vienna, Venice, Milan, Nimes and Trieste.

There were no accidents, no delays, no discomforts. Indeed, the passenger declares his air travel as "infinitely more comfortable" than railroad travel, and as enabling him to do his important business in fifteen widely separated cities "in a tenth of the time" that would have been required if the railroads had been used.

It is notable that this business trip was made in a private plane with only a pilot. It was hired for the journey. "Government had nothing to do with it. Its complete success must be highly suggestive to American business men of importance."

Ruth's Physical Co-Ordination Good

A psychological research on the somewhat famous person of Babe Ruth by two Columbia University professors lets about the physical endowment of that robust ball batter. They declare him 90 per cent efficient compared with the 60 per cent average of humanity, with eyes 12 per cent and ears 10 per cent faster than those of the ordinary man.

The general intelligence, measured by quickness of understanding, and co-ordination of eye, muscle, brain and nerves, was unusually good in Ruth's case. Nobody ever had any doubt of Babe's quickness of eye, sound nerves and carping muscle. His achievements in laming the ball over the fence an extraordinary number of times, by connecting his bat at the proper instant with the swift, curling sphere, are sufficient demonstration of those physical facts about him. He is a bascule phenomenon, that's all. What most of us would like to know is how well he would get along in the routine of a working life. Athletic and sporting life seldom co-ordinate with the working life of a business or profession.

Moving Pictures At Home

Senator Pomeroy has installed a moving picture outfit in his Washington apartment. President Harding has another at the White House, and in many of the houses of the country there are private exhibitions of movies.

Nothing could better illustrate the advance of this form of entertainment than the disposition of men of wealth and authority to take it home with them. The future of the moving picture, and its influence on the lives of the people is beyond estimate. There is but one cloud on its horizon—the occasional glimpse the public gets of some of the degenerates whose talents have made them famous, when some hideous scandal in their lives is disclosed.

The time is coming when an enlightened public will not tolerate the presence in a moving picture of any man or woman who is not respectable. Speed the day!

Mr. William G. McArdoo is about the last man to whom we would look for advice on any problem of railroad management or financing. A matter of boosting wages to win political support would be something else again; but as a mischief-maker in railroad economics Mr. McArdoo was beyond compare when in authority.

Children can be taught to write music as easily as their a, b, c's, a savant tells us; and another scientist says the age of the earth at eight billion years—the latter conclusion being reached by figuring the number of years required for the earth to become salty, and for the oceans to absorb that salt until they became salty. Can you beat it?

The game the Irish republic is planning with England draws near its close. With huge winnings on the table the Irish seem disposed to overstep their market. It will be a costly mistake if they do that. Has the Bore rebellion been forgotten entirely?

Where Handicraft Still Reigns

By Frederic J. Haskin

EAST AURORA, N. Y., September 28.—What is East Aurora doing since Elbert Hubbard and his wife went down on the Lusitania? People come here wondering if they will find slackness or decay in the home of the Roycrofters. Instead, there is trim neatness about the plant, the same busy craftsmen at work in the shops, the same unusual atmosphere of tranquility which somehow has always pervaded the place.

The Roycroft plant, you doubtless remember, is the project started by Elbert Hubbard, 25 years ago. Hubbard had lived in the village of East Aurora for 30 years without giving any signs of one day making it famous. He was in the soap business then, and had kept on mixing soap would in time, have been a millionaire, as his partner, Larkin, became.

But the life of a soap merchant palled on the artistically inclined Hubbard. At 38 he took the first step toward reclaiming his individuality. He sold out and went to Harvard.

Then he started a little printing shop in East Aurora, and with his philosophy, his writings and his personality, he gathered about him the Roycroft community and gradually built what is now the Roycroft plant with 250 workers.

East Aurora was on the map in a quiet way as a New York village before Hubbard's personality began to flower. Hubbard made it popular, and gradually East Aurora became synonymous with Roycroft and Elbert Hubbard. You cannot write or talk about one without implying the others.

The homes of the village are mainly the craftsmen's homes. The whole community seems to center on the shade street where the low ivy-covered shops of the Hubbard plant stand.

Hubbard took it for granted that the world would recognize that he and his Roycrofters made East Aurora what it has become. When East Aurora got a new railroad station, Hubbard wrote to the railroad company and asked permission to make the station sign and put the cabalistic Roycroft trade mark on it beside the name East Aurora. The railroad company was astounded at the suggestion. Never had any advertising marks been allowed on a station sign, and they promptly informed Mr. Hubbard of the high and long-standing traditions of the road. But Hubbard was not vanquished. He persisted in his arguments until he convinced the officials that the looming business in railroad tickets between East Aurora and points in all directions was due to the Roycrofters and that they were East Aurora. Today the East Aurora station is probably the only one in the country that has a sign decorated with a trademark.

The story of the new railroad station is another Hubbard story. The town had a disreputable-looking shack in which to buy its tickets and pass the time of day. But four years ago Hubbard turned his attention to the depot. Every month his magazine carried an intense editorial about the awful depot situation at East Aurora. One month he printed a picture of the ramshackle station and beside it his new plan for the railroad. It was too much for the railroad. It surrendered and even sent the plans for the new station to Hubbard for his approval.

The Second Hubbard
Today, the gliding spirit of the Roycrofters is Elbert Hubbard II. Externally, Hubbard's son is a sort of copy of him, but with some variations. His hair is not long as his father's. Fra Elbertus wears his. And the younger Hubbard bears less of a resemblance to William Jennings Bryan, than his father did. But young Elbert Hubbard wears a homespun suit of brown, comfortable shoes, and the flowing black tie that his father affected.

This is a sort of Roycroft lad, the young man who works in the shops at book binding, metal work, and illuminating, quite generally wears these flowing black or blue ties, partly, we think he is a concession to the artistic temperament but more as a tribute to the departed leader.

Elbert Hubbard II sits down to talk but he is interrupted every few minutes by messages and consultations. Obviously, he is no figurehead in the plant.

"Elbert Hubbard left the Roycroft plant as a monument," he explains, "and I am preserving it as a live monument. People have told me that I am submerging my own personality here, but I do not agree with them. I find satisfaction in bringing father's work to other people, and I can do things for him along that line that he never had time to do for himself. The Roycroft community should go on in his way until something better can replace it—and I believe that is a long way off. He builded better than he knew."

Hubbard's big idea, his son reminds you, was work. He contended that there is no such thing as mental labor. He said, "The man that has a job is lucky." It was one of his favorite axioms, and he played with the idea in all sorts of epigrams, such as "Happy is that man who has found his work."

But though Hubbard regarded all work as sacred, he was discriminating enough to realize that creative work is more interesting and satisfying than purely mechanical processes. So when he started his craft shop he installed machinery for only the tedious processes. For the rest he believed the old simple ways of doing craftwork were best.

But though Hubbard regarded all work as sacred, he was discriminating enough to realize that creative work is more interesting and satisfying than purely mechanical processes. So when he started his craft shop he installed machinery for only the tedious processes. For the rest he believed the old simple ways of doing craftwork were best.

Men and women were set to work making things by hand, spending as much time as necessary on their book-binding, saving, or modeling with no strict factory rules to drive them on.

Hubbard further sought to insure contentment and industry by making his factory co-operative. If a workman had a share in the profits he figured that there was nothing to fear from capital-labor difficulties.

The shops he built of stones, which the farmers were glad to sell for a dollar a load. They are low, well designed buildings, set in green lawns and partly covered with vines. Hubbard set out to make his shops attractive as another means of attracting his workers, especially the boys and girls of East Aurora. He disliked to see the young people growing up restless at home on the little farms. Yet he disliked still more to hear that this one or that had left for the city. So from the time of the first little shop with its eight workers, Hubbard encouraged and made possible artistic surroundings.

The power of suggestion was recovered by Hubbard, and it is everywhere employed to keep East Aurorians mindful of their possibilities. Motteos for every emergency and emotion are found about the Roycroft buildings. Such thoughtful sayings as "The Mintage of wisdom is to know that rest is rust, and that real life is in love, laughter and work," may be followed by a more ironical warning as "Your eyes and your ears inform you, not your tongue."

The final psychological factor in Hubbard's project was that he took a vital interest in every phase of the work. He was always eager to experiment with new benefits for his Roycrofters. The shop gradually expanded from one small room to a cluster of buildings. An inn had to be built to take care of visitors. A bank was started to encourage the Roycrofters to save their money.

Elbert Hubbard II is, he himself says, more of a business man than a literary genius or pioneer. He has thought to do simply carrying on the does not indulge in interesting experiments, as his father delighted to do. In the first Hubbard's day, Roycroft was a cumulative project, always broadening and branching out. Now it seems to be advancing straight ahead.

Always Pays to Be Pleasant
The woman who has formed the habit of saying pleasant things and letting everything that is unpleasant pass without comment is in a position to put her oil on the troubled waters of both social and business life. She is the type that gets the most out of life because everyone instinctively treats the best side to her.
